- Name: Top Tracks by Genre
- Description: My website is gonna be a music organizer. It will have five different genres at the top of the page in the form of tabs that when clicked will bring the user to a separate page catered to that genre. The genre page will include a list of the top ten songs of that genre, a picture of the album cover, who it is by, a description of the song, the number of plays, and when it was released. The title of the song will be a link that will take the user to a youtube video of the song.
